LIFE IS A SERIES OF CYCLES

THE CYCLE OF FOUR YEARS AT WITTENBERG IS ANALOGOUS TO THE CYCLE OF THE FOUR SEASONS . . . . .

A bursting forth of new growth, green and fresh

An overbearing development, absurdly wise and cocky

A sophisticated and confident stand that brings forth the harvest

Clean limbed and stripped for action, a cold world is faced

Taking a cross section of the four year cycle of school life at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, a story of the year is reconstructed and recorded in the Wittenberger of 1936, being divided into three seasons, Autumn, Winter, and Spring.

JOHN WEAVER, Editor - - - - HUGH GILMORE, Business Manager

All through the night
The subtle frost hath plied its mystic art,
And in the day the golden sun hath wrought
True wonders; and the wings of morn and even
Have touched with magic breath the changing leaves.

—Gallagher.

AUTUMN . . . .

Come, see the north-wind's masonry!
Out of an unseen quarry, evermore
Furnished with tile, the fierce artificer
Curves his white bastions with projected roof
Round every windward stake or tree or door.

—Emerson.

. . . . WINTER

Hail, bounteous Spring! that doth inspire
Mirth and youth and warm desire;
Woods and groves are of thy dressing,
Hill and dale doth boast thy blessing.
Thus we salute thee with our early song,
And welcome thee, and wish thee long.

—Milton.

SPRING . . . .

falling leaves . . . wood smoke in the air . . . shrill of whistle and thump of pigskin on leather . . . cheering crowds . . . freshmen greeted, rushed, pledged . . . Homecoming festivities . . . auspicious opening of a good year . . .

AUTUMN AT WITTENBERG

President . . . .

As friendly to the humblest freshman in the autumn as to the most prominent senior in the spring, President Rees Edgar Tulloss has proven himself a keen judge of men and a capable administrator. As college president, business man, and civic leader, Dr. Tulloss is rightfully one of Ohio's outstanding citizens. During his tenure of office, since 1920, Wittenberg's enrollment has increased, an extensive building program has been completed, and the endowment has been enlarged. A graduate of Wittenberg, where he was captain of the varsity football team, President Tulloss received his Ph.D. from Harvard University, and his D.D. from Lenoir-Rhyne. Muhlenberg College conferred the LL.D. degree upon him.

A bursting forth of new growth, green and fresh

Herewith we enlarge upon our seasonal theme—presenting the classes as they are analogous to the seasons. Though the freshmen are placed in the autumn section because it is then that the campus first encounters them, their seasonal equivalent is the spring. In this disillusioned age, they are no longer gullible—no longer purchasers of tickets to the campus. They've been around, and can recall something from high school to match anything they encounter in college. Still, they are green, and oh, so fresh—even as generations of freshmen who preceded them have been. So to them we allot the spring season, when everything else is green and fresh.

Cheerleaders

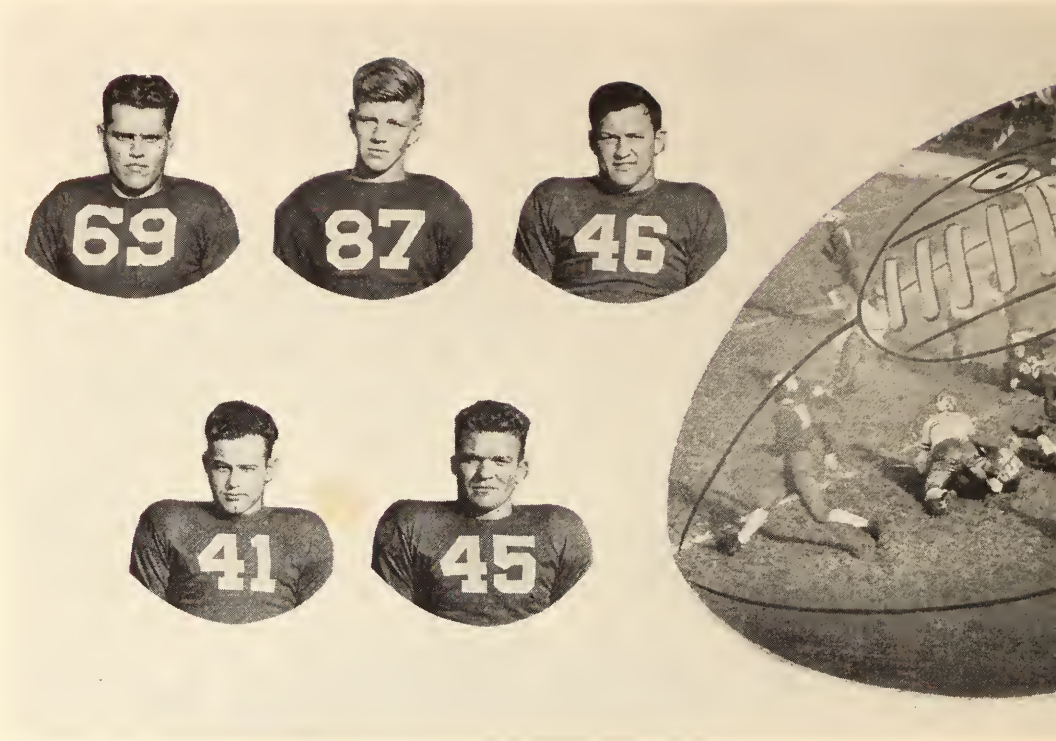
Football



Jack Koch, tackle Arthur Bussard, guard Frank Toth, quarterback
Willis Baughman, center Alfred Florence, halfback

Striving with little success to overcome the gridiron jinx of the past few seasons, Wittenberg's "hard luck" team completed the 1935 season with a record of four victories and five defeats. The Fighting Lutherans showed themselves to be a much better team than the season record would indicate, losing three games by three points or less each.

BLUFFTON

Opening their 1935 season with a 6-0 victory over Bluffton on a rain-soaked field, the Wittenberg Tigers aroused no championship hopes. Against weak competition Wittenberg displayed little of the power that Coach Stobbs had hoped to develop, though Florence, Wilhelm, and Hall in the backfield, and Schofer and Eiseman in the right half of the forward wall showed possibilities of outstanding performance later in the season.

WOOSTER

Holding the 1934 conference champions to a 7-6 score, the Lutherans surprised everyone, including themselves. Scoring in the first quarter, Wittenberg retained its lead until the third period, when a penalty gave Wooster an opportunity to score

Erwin Eisemann, tackle — James Hall, fullback
Alex Popicg, end — Thomas Himes, tackle — Paul Norman,guard

from the one-foot line. Making good their try for the extra point, the Scots gained the lead which won the game. The Tigers showed considerably more power and teamwork in this game than in the opener.

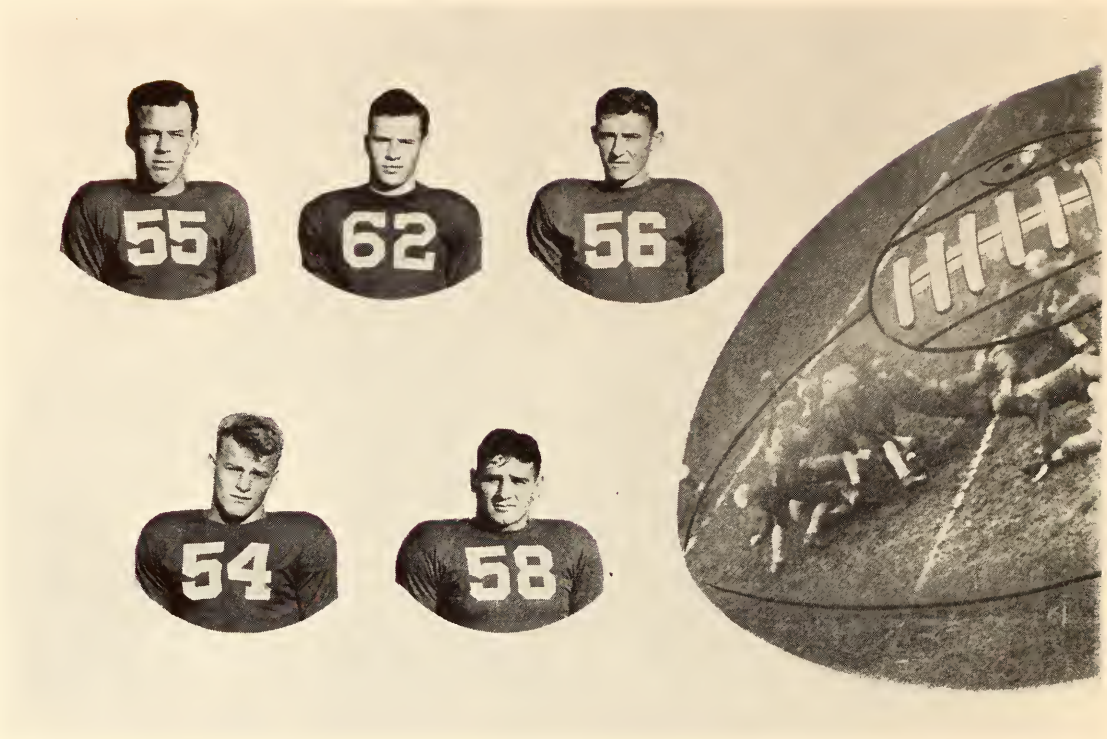
OTTERBEIN

Scoring three times in the first quarter, the Cardinal and Cream started on a touchdown spree which ended in a score of 41-0. Outplaying their opponents throughout the game, the Lutherans displayed a powerful attack featured by good running, passing, and blocking. Swift backs netted 212 yards for Wittenberg to Otterbein's 14.

DENISON

Fumbling and unorganized play by a Wittenberg team that was rapidly proving to be an in-and-outer enabled Denison to defeat the Tigers in a night game by a 13-0 score. The victors scored once in the second and again in the final quarter on a damp and foggy field. Outstanding in the game was the punting of Wilhelm, which did much to keep the Baptists from scoring oftener.

Football



Thurman Blaser, end Boyd Abrams, halfback Andrew Moran, end
Gilbert Dickerhoof, quarterback Leonard Wilhelm, halfback

WESLEYAN

Conceded scarcely a chance to stop a powerful Wesleyan team, the Fighting Lutherans lived up to their name to hold their opponents to a 14-12 margin of victory in the annual Homecoming contest. The Tigers stole the show by gaining 99 yards from scrimmage to the Bishops' 31. Two runs of more than 45 yards each for touchdowns showed the real ability of the Wittenberg backs, Abrams and Florence.

OBERLIN

Lack of a scoring punch, not uncommon with the Lutherans, troubled them throughout another game in which they appeared to have a decided edge in playing ability. Nine first downs for Wittenberg to one for Oberlin gave the former an advantage which meant nothing on the scoreboard, while a field goal by Oberlin in the third quarter left the Lutherans on the small end of a 3-0 score.

OHIO NORTHERN

Staging a last-half rally, Wittenberg smashed the Polar Bears' 14-game winning streak, 21-12. Although outplayed throughout the first half, the Tigers came back strong to break through

Jerry Kissell, halfback Paul Schofer, guard
Mario Peretti, guard Boris Bambaloff, end Fred Dey, halfback

Northern's defense and push over three touchdowns. Outstanding in the game was the Lutheran line play.

HEIDELBERG

The Wittenbergers snagged their fourth victory of the season by defeating Heidelberg, 7-0, in the final home game. Frankie Toth scored early in the first period on a 60-yard run. Excellent punting featured the defensive game which Wittenberg played for the remaining three periods.

DAYTON

Displaying little of the type of football which they were capable of playing, the Lutherans were clearly outshone by Dayton in the final game, and finished on the losing end of a 27-0 score. Starting the touchdown parade with a 74-yard run in the first quarter, Dayton was the only team to score more than twice on Wittenberg this season. The Tigers failed to advance the ball beyond their opponents' 20-yard line.

Only four senior lettermen will be lost to Coach Stobbs by graduation: Paul Schofer, guard; Willis Baughman, center; Frank Toth, halfback; and Scotty Florence, halfback.

Freshman Squad

Reminiscent of the "good old days" was the yearling squad which turned out in response to Coach "Tid" Schaefer's initial summons, and, strangely enough, stayed out to take the battering of the varsity for the rest of the season. Forty-five men, of varying skills individually but encouraging as a whole, comprised the frosh squad. Of these, 25 remained for spring practice and won numeral awards. Prospective varsity talent for 1936 is available among these:

Homecoming

Annual opportunity for alumni to go undergraduate in a mellowed way, the Homecoming week-end of 1935 had somewhat more than the usual attendant success. Activities got under way with a student pep meeting in the field house Friday morning, Oct. 25. Faculty member Kelley led the festivities with a one-man seance during which he foresaw victory for the Lutherans. He was abetted by President Tulloss, who also predicted the boys would trim the Bishops; and by Coach Stobbs who was less certain but said "the boys'll put up a good fight", and had them take a bow.

After the convocation a student parade downtown tied up traffic and opened the way for a general release of inhibitions, lasting over the week-end. The parade finished in a cheer session on the Esplanade. An all-college dance in the field house Friday night, highlighted by the presentation of Homecoming Queen Eleanor Baily and attendants, Margaret Brillhart and Janet McKenzie, wound up the first Homecoming day. Saturday afternoon before a good-sized crowd of alumni, the Lutheran gridders apparently decided to make up for last year's Homecoming fiasco, and fought an overrated Ohio Wesleyan eleven to a near-standstill. By the margin of two points after touchdown, the Lutherans lost, 14-12, after leading most of the way.

Between halves came presentation of the Queen and attendants; an interfraternity freshman pig chase, won by Ray Freeman of Pi Kappa Alpha; announcement of house decoration winners; and the finish of a scholastic cross country race. Climaxing days of planning and earnest efforts at festooning fraternity and sorority houses with assorted dummies, crepe paper ribbons, and banners, Theta Kappa Nu's neon fireworks display and Gamma Phi Beta's Romeo and Juliet scene were adjudged winners of the Chamber of Commerce awards. An alumni barbecue at the field house followed the game. Seven fraternities held dances Saturday evening, the affairs the alumni were waiting for all the time. Sunday morning services at Fourth Lutheran church constituted the calming official close to the week-end.

Tag Football

Playing through its schedule without a defeat, Alpha Tau Omega finished at the top in the "A" division of tag football.

Competition in the "B" league resulted in a three-way tie for first place among Phi Mu Delta, Delta Sigma Phi, and Pi Kappa Alpha. The Phi Mus were the victors in the play-off games and gained the title.

Alpha Tau Omega, however, defeated the "B" league winners, 6 to 0, to become undisputed tag football champions. Donahue and Dykstra led the ATOs in their championship quest.

Second in the final combined standings for both leagues was Phi Gamma Delta with three games won and one lost.

Volleyball

Alpha Tau Omega took the intramural volleyball title by downing the Phi Gams in a hard-fought finals battle 2-1. The outcome was decisive because previous to their meeting, neither team had lost a match. Phi Kappi Psi placed third in the standing, with Phi Mu Delta and the Dorm tied for fourth.

Indoor Softball

Topping the "A" league champions as well as the other teams of their own league, Theta Kappa Nu cinched the indoor softball crown. Winning first place in "B" league, Brickley's Boys proceeded to take over the Phi Psis to the tune of 5 to 1. The latter, by virtue of their position at the top of the "A" division, were pre-game favorites.

Stellar pitching by Brickley, plus regular slugging sprees by his team mates, explains the success of the Theta Nus, who dropped but one game to the Pi Kaps. Altekruse and Wood were especially effective with the hickory, and must be included with Brickley as winning factors.

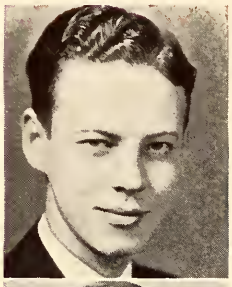
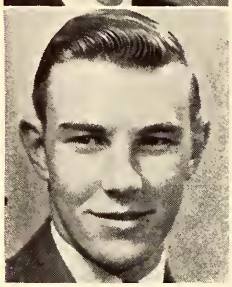
The Torch





Andrews, business manager
Wainscott, editor

The Torch, campus news weekly, appeared this year about three times a month, and some months not so often. Because of this unhappy infrequency, the Torch was printing things students had recorded in their diaries weeks before. The style was still good, however, carrying on the tradition of the Torch's founding in 1914—clear, concise, and accurate presentation. Something like adherence to journalism rules is enforced, and the paper is supposed to be a laboratory for journalism students. On account of a policy of election of editor and business manager by student vote, Torch politics ran into something of a snag this year, resulting in a change of editorial horses in midstream, apparently an unprecedented occurrence. Other staff members are appointed by the two elected heads. Chief gauntlet the Torch editor runs is when he drops in on K. G. Lind, journalism professor, for comment on the last issue. The Torch is a member of the Ohio College Newspaper Association and the National Collegiate Press Association, and usually places fairly high in their contests, though entering none this year.

Band

The paradox of an inspiring organization that has lost its own inspiration is offered in the band this year, and its inspiration was Prof. Anton Bjorklund. The band got off to a great start in the football season, supplying music for pep meetings and games, but dropped almost into oblivion when "Tony" left the campus. The temporary appointment of Harold L. Seall of Xenia as director apparently failed to bring the band out of the doldrums. Thus the familiar characterization of the band as "first and last" organization at Wittenberg, because it plays in the fall and at Commencement, seems destined to be lost unless much-needed reorganization is effected.

Everyman

A medieval allegorical drama, or morality play, "Everyman" proved an unusually successful production though its theme was somewhat too abstract for average student appreciation. The play presented an interpretative problem to the Wittenberg Players which they solved capably. Originally written in middle English blank verse, the dialogue was revised for staging by Director George Izenour. Theme of the play was that of every man's problem in facing Death and wondering what in life to take along with him for his reckoning with his Creator. Don Lyons in the title role, Janet Culbertson as "Good Deeds," and Rachael Lang as "Goods" gave impressive performances. Though "Dulcy" really was the first play in the fall, "Everyman's" production was so close to fall (December 16-21) that its greater dramatic value merited its inclusion here.

Dormitories

Although housing 140 women, Ferncliff Hall proved inadequate to accommodate this year's influx of freshman women, so an auxiliary dormitory was opened at 625 Woodlawn avenue. At first called Honor House, the building's name was shortly (and more appropriately) changed to Woodlawn House. Quite the majority of dormitory residents are in Ferncliff, however, as is evident in the illustrations. The Hall, which would be approximately at your left shoulder as you look at the coed group, is a composite of three buildings: the old Wittenberg academy, a brick structure of 1884, and a later addition of 1914. By far the greater number of Ferncliff residents are freshman women who are legislated into living there. Most of the remainder are unaffiliated upperclasswomen. Principal social activities of the Hall are dinners for faculty members.

Exchange Students

An interesting tradition of Wittenberg cultural life in recent years is the foreign exchange system which brings the best students of European universities to the campus in trade for outstanding Wittenbergers who go abroad. Observation of the operation of the system during the past few years would indicate that the trade is all in Wittenberg's favor. Not the least amusing of the contributions the European delegates make to the campus are the arguments which arise in world history classes when representatives of several nations are present.

At Wittenberg this year were (left to right): Diomid Didishko, exile from Soviet Russia, now of Harbin, Manchukuo; Franz Ruch, of Singen, Germany; Miss Andree Burton, of Villemomble, France; Horst Griehl, of Leipzig, Germany; Hermann Reissinger, of Wurzburg, Germany; and Kurt Weege, of Halle, Germany.

An overbearing development, absurdly wise and cocky

Firmly established now on the campus, the sophomores hasten their growth toward prominence. Those inclined athletically get their first taste of varsity competition, and are finally convinced it's tougher than that of high school or freshman squad. Those who seek the activities limelight begin as "yes men" for upper-class leaders. And the others remain in comfortable anonymity, contenting themselves with making life difficult for the freshmen.

A sophisticated and confident stand that brings forth the harvest

Two seasons of academic growth bring the Wittenberger to the junior year harvest—ready to bear the fruit of careful nurture. The juniors are joining their honoraries, taking over offices in clubs, fraternities, religious groups. They are the politicians, conspiring among themselves to upset old combines. Super-sophisticates, they seem satisfied with their status, confident that they, not the seniors, control campus affairs in actuality.

With a line-up that, during the greater part of the season, included three sophomores, Wittenberg's 1935-1936 varsity basketball team proved to be one of the outstanding court quintets of the state. Defeated by only four opponents, two of them in the Ohio Conference, the Fighting Lutherans chalked up a record of 14 victories to six defeats.

To start a memorable season, the Lutherans defeated Georgetown by a score of 44 to 25. Controlling the tip-off throughout the first home game, Wittenberg was never headed by the Kentuckians.

A sharp-shooting Indiana team was able to hand the Tigers the first setback of the year when Evansville downed them 32 to 15, in the second pre-conference game at home.

Employing a fast-breaking offense, Wittenberg humbled Franklin to the tune of 42 to 22. Playing on a small Y. M. C. A. floor in Columbus failed to hamper the Lutherans, who took the lead after the first two minutes of play.

Avenging their defeat at the hands of Evansville by downing another out-state foe, the Lutherans defeated Harvard by a score of 35 to 24 on the field house floor. It was a comparatively easy game and did not force the Witte Bergers to extend themselves.

Living up to their Fighting Lutheran nickname, the cagers downed the Dayton Flyers 28 to 24 in a nip and tuck battle at home. Displaying a real fighting finish, the Lutherans scored twice in the closing minutes to break a 24-24 deadlock.

In a fast, rough game, the Tigers opened their Ohio Conference season by defeating Wooster in the fifth home game, 48 to 35. In a clash of speedy offensive playing, the Lutherans displayed better shooting ability to turn back the Presbyterians.

In another non-conference game, the Battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan were responsible for the Lutheran's second defeat at Delaware, 30 to 25. Coming up fast at the finish, the Lutherans' rally was cut short by the gun.

With Oberlin the victim, the Tigers scored their second conference victory of the season here, 44 to 36. Excellent passwork and defense by Oberlin forced the Lutherans to come from behind in the second half to take the lead.

With twelve points scored in the last eight minutes of play, the Lutherans handed Otterbein its first conference defeat at Westerville, 39 to 36. This marked the seventh victory of the season for the Stobbsmen and the third conference win.

With the Ohio Conference lead at stake, the Lutherans fell before Marietta at Marietta, 53 to 32, to give the latter undisputed first place. With another fighting rally at the finish the Tigers cut down the margin of defeat, but they were unable to overcome Marietta's top-heavy first-half lead.

The Lutheran cagers came back after the Marietta disaster to whip Muskingum 38 to 30, at New Concord. With this comparatively easy victory in a slow game, the Lutherans brought their conference wins to four, and dropped another previously undefeated five out of the Conference lead.

Wittenberg chalked up its ninth victory of the season by downing Denison at Springfield. The score was tied three times in the first half, but in the final period the Tigers increased their lead steadily to win going away, 40 to 23.

Handicapped by the loss of Moran and Dykstra, sophomore stars, by injury and ineligibility, the Lutherans eked out a narrow 42 to 41 victory over Ohio Northern at Springfield. Playing far below their standard, the Lutherans had difficulty in staving off a final rally of the Polar Bears.

Losing the lead only once after the first minute of play, the Lutherans humbled the Dayton Flyers at Dayton for the second time by a score of 41 to 34. The game was fast and rough with a total of 36 fouls called and five players removed on that account.

Wittenberg continued as a title threat by downing Bowling Green there, 28 to 25, in the seventh conference victory of the season. Partially because of a slippery floor, the Tigers were unable to work their fast break to best advantage, and the score was close throughout the game.

In the game which held the spotlight of the state, Marietta succeeded in nosing out the Lutherans, 33 to 32, making a brilliant comeback in the final minutes after trailing all the way. Captain John Bowser led the Pioneers' attack, which kept them in the Conference lead and dropped the Lutherans to third place.

Regaining their smooth working offensive in the closing minutes of play, the Tigers downed Denison at Granville for the second time and their eighth conference win, 34 to 29.

For their ninth conference victory the Stobbsmen swamped Heidelberg, 50 to 25, at Springfield. Getting away to a flying start, the victors tallied ten points in the opening two minutes of the game, and were never in danger.

Basketball

In a rough game, the Wesleyan Bishops scored their second victory over Wittenberg at Springfield, 41 to 31. The Lutherans started out fast to gain a six-point lead, but were unable to hold it. A fist fight between players on the floor livened up the game considerably.

Showing a letdown after the Wesleyan encounter, the Lutherans closed the 1935-36 season by losing to Case at Cleveland, 46 to 37. This proved to be one of the major upsets in the conference race, and dropped Wittenberg to fourth place in the Ohio Conference.

Outstanding in the season's records was the scoring of Jerry Donahue, forward, who tallied a total of 207 points in the 20 games. Sophomores who stood the strain of varsity competition and earned regular positions on the squad were Andy Moran, forward, Harold Hackenberg, guard, and Lew Werner, center. Ray Dykstra, another sophomore and a regular guard, was ineligible for competition during the second semester. Lettermen whose experience contributed much toward this successful season were Scotty Florence and Wade Wichael.

Freshman Squad

Besides furnishing the opposition for the varsity in nightly practice sessions, the freshman basketball teams met a number of independent and high school teams and had little difficulty in subduing the majority of them. Freeman, Martin, Altekruse, Rankin, Law, and Shannon were first stringers and likeliest varsity material of the eighteen members of the squad.

Swimming

A well balanced team, strengthened by sophomore talent, compiled a tank record of four wins out of seven meets, with double victories over Ohio Wesleyan and Denison. Dickerhoof, Templin, and Klesa, in their first year of varsity competition, took over leadership of the Lutheran attack with consistent victories in their events. Hicks was outstanding among lettermen on the team. McGilvray natatorium was the scene of the first Ohio Conference swimming meet, in which the Lutherans took fourth place.

1936 lettermen and their events are:

Fencing

Despite the powerful opposition the Lutheran fencers met in their matches, they came through with a creditable record of five victories and a tie out of eight contests. Only the powerful Ohio State and Michigan State swordsmen downed the three-man Wittenberg team.

Dick Rotzel, Nevin Stover, and Robert Bradstock bore the brunt of the Lutheran attack and received varsity awards from Coach Ramiro Manalich. Al Lasher, Gordon Faudree, and Elmer Rullman assisted the varsity men at exhibitions, though they were ineligible for intercollegiate competition.

Basketball "A"

With only one defeat on its record, Delta Sigma Phi became champion of the "A" league in intramural basketball.

In a season when competition was unusually keen, the Delta Sigs dropped only one game, to Phi Kappa Psi. Decisive scores marked most of the champions' victories. The Delta Sigs' cage success was largely attributable to the stellar playing of Jacobs at forward and Williams at center.

The season ended with a three-way tie for second place among Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Kappa Nu, and Phi Kappa Psi.

Foul Shooting

Individual honors in the intramural foul shooting contest went to Lew Martin, of Alpha Tau Omega, who sank 61 of a possible 70 shots. Dudley Graham of Phi Gamma Delta, placed second, making good 53 of 70. Team honors went to Phi Gamma Delta with 245 points of a possible 350.

The Dorm finished second, and Alpha Tau Omega third.

Basketball "B"

Repeating its victory of the previous year, the Dorm captured first place in the "B" league in intramural basketball. The Dorm team went through its schedule wihtout a defeat. Delta Sigma Phi, winner of the "A" division, took second place in "B" league. Phi Gamma Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, and Phi Kappa Psi finished in a deadlock for third place.

Swimming

The annual intramural swimming meet championship went to the Dorm with 21½ points. In second place finished Phi Gamma Delta with 17½ points. Phi Kappa Psi placed third.

Lisak and Raper, freshmen, turned in outstanding performances for the winners. O'Brien and Neumeier were Phi Gamma Delta's best.

Noteworthy in the meet were the excellent times in several events. Neumeier and Lisak swam almost a dead heat in the 50-yard breast stroke with the latter placing first. The time, 40½ seconds, is the best on record in intramural meets. Other speed records were set by O'Brien in the 50-yard free style (27½ seconds), and the Phi Gamma Delta medley relay team which covered the 150 yards in 1 minute and 48 seconds.

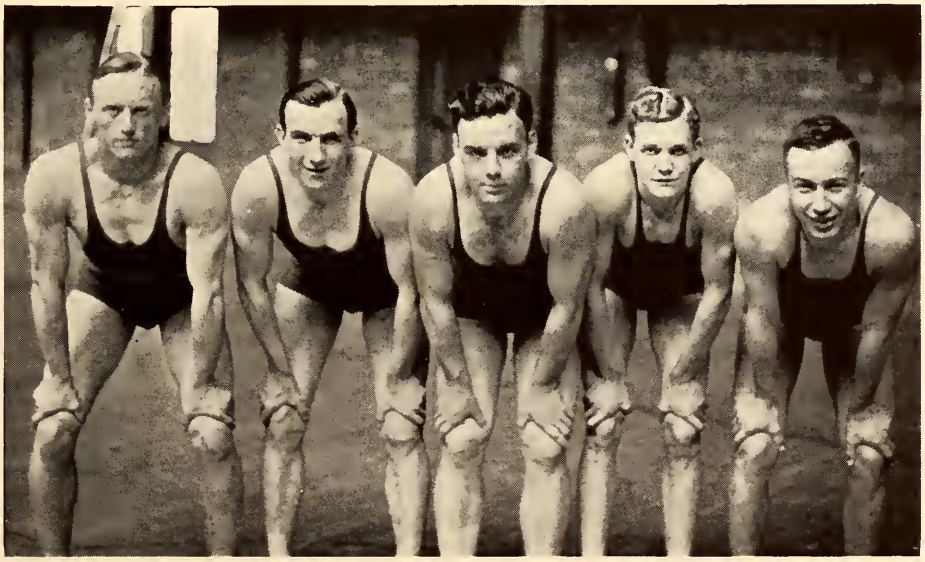
Handball

With a season record of twenty-five wins and only one defeat, Phi Gamma Delta captured the handball laurels. The Phi Psis, with twenty-three wins and four defeats, finished close behind the winners in second place. Alpha Tau Omega took third in final standings. The veterans Frick and Graham were outstanding performers for the Phi Gams.



Dorm League Swimming Champions

Women's Athletic Association

Dedicated to the preservation of the physical wellbeing of Wittenberg women, the Women's Athletic Association includes in its membership virtually every coed who can swim, throw a ball, or draw a bow with convincing surety. The group has its social aspects, with a welcome party for freshman women in the fall, a Play Day for high school women in the spring, and an occasional party or steak fry of its own. The principal aim, though, is to get the coeds out for sports, and there's a point system for participation in athletics whereby numerals, letters, and sweaters are awarded. The Association holds meetings monthly.

Alpha Delta Pi Swimming

Alpha Xi Delta and Chi Omega were leading contenders for the volleyball championship. When the two teams met in the season finals, Alpha Xi Delta won, 40 to 24, to take the title.

The intramural basketball race was so close that at the end of the regular schedule Alpha Delta Pi, Beta Phi Alpha, and Chi Omega were tied for first place. The Chi Omegas triumphed in the playoff, defeating the Alpha Delts 19-16, and the Beta Phis 26-15.

Alpha Delta Pi won the annual intramural swimming meet with 119 points. Second place went to Gamma Phi Beta with 83, and third to Chi Omega with 39.

The Alpha Delts also copped the softball title by defeating Alpha Xi Delta 9-7 in the finals.

Wrestling

Newcomers to intercollegiate mat competition, the Lutheran wrestlers devoted their first year in the sport to gaining experience. Though losing both of their matches to former Conference champion teams, the grunt and groan boys showed possibilities of developing into a stronger team under the tutelage of former Olympic gymnast Dimiter Spassoff. Kent State and Case were conquerors of the Wittenberg matmen, both by the score of 8 to 1. Valbracht won the heavyweight decision in the Case contest and Scheutzow took the 155-pound match against Kent State to score the Wittenberg points. An exhibition match with the Kansas State Y. M. C. A. team, which was enroute to the Olympic tryouts, completed the Lutheran matmen's season.

Oratory

Making something of a clean sweep in Ohio oratorical contests, Wittenberg speakers of both sexes took three state championships, a second and a third place. Eugene Hoak, on the right, took the state Old Line Oratorical contest held on the Wittenberg campus with his fiery dissertation on the evils of the criminal lawyer, "Traitors at the Bar." In the national contest at Northwestern University, Hoak eliminated contenders from three states before the elimination caught up with him. Robert Sultzbach, second from left, won himself a neat amount in cash besides the usual glory by taking the Scripps-Howard-sponsored oratorical consideration of the one-house state legislature. Defending it, Sultzbach won; opposing it, Karl Landefeld, Wittenberg's other entrant (the mean looking one with arms folded), also ran. Edward Crocker (looking here like he'd tasted something sour) utilized all that magnetic charm to win the state Prince of Peace contest on an involved commentary about the scales being knocked off the statue of Justice. Janet Culbertson, on the left, placed second in the Ohio Interpretative Reading contest, and Betty Stewart took third in the Women's State Oratorical contest.

Debate

Varsity Men's Squad

First Year Men's Squad

Participation in non-decision debates with Findlay, Kent, Capital, Earlham, Asbury, and Dayton, and competition in the Ohio Intercollegiate Debate contest, in which Wittenberg placed third, comprised the activity of the men's varsity debate squad. Debating the question "Resolved: that the Supreme Court should be deprived of the power to declare an act of Congress unconstitutional," fourteen men took part in varsity clashes:

KARL LANDEFELD
ROBERT HEINE
EDWARD SUTORIUS
ERICH BRANDT
EDWARD CROCKER
ROBERT SULTZBACH
RICHARD SULTZBACH
RAY WHTIMAN
EUGENE HOAK
TOM HOMRIGHAUSEN
ARNOLD MECKSTROTH
PAUL PLASTERER

First-year men engaged in debates with Denison, Ohio Wesleyan, Earlham, Kenyon, and Dayton, all of which were non-decision. Substantial varsity material seemed likely to develop among the nineteen members of the first-year squad:

RICHARD FULTON
JOHN VLAHOS
GAIL WHITE
KERMIT SHOCK

Debate

Women varsity debaters engaged in seven non-decision contests prior to their entrance in the Ohio Women's Intercollegiate Debate tournament, in which they took third. Among the colleges with which the women's squad debated on the question, "Resolved: that the parole system as now administered is detrimental to the best interests of criminal correction in the United States," were Kent, Ohio University, Earlham, and Ohio Northern. Members of the varsity squad were:

BETTY WILSON

LOIS LIEBEGOTT
LORRAINE ALBRIGHT
DOROTHY LEHMANN
FRANCES THACKERA
ELEANOR M. THOMPSON

Members of the first-year women's debate squad took part in several non-decision debates on the question, "Resolved, that the State of Ohio should adopt a policy of free medical service to all who demand it." Twenty women participated in first-year debate:

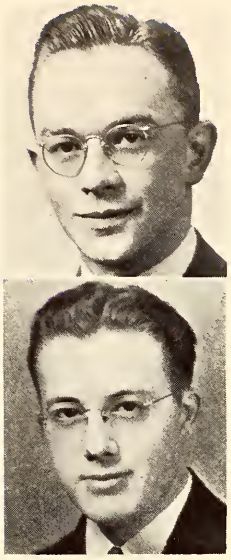
The Witt



Hicks, editor
Hasselo, business manager

This whimsical little publication, the campus humor magazine (mental quotes about the "humor") appears monthly with an average of two pages of original stuff, nine pages of ads, and five pages of cracks plagarized from magazines of other colleges. This composition gave rise to the rumor that one issue of the Witt was delayed because the editor had lost his scissors. Appearing on the campus first in 1922, the Witt made a reputation for itself as pretty clever—so much so that in 1926 it was admitted to the Wid-Western College Comic Association. In the past few years, however, there has a been decline in the clever stuff. Highlight in Witt comedy this year was the so-called popularity contest in which the editors did a great job of ballot counting with the result that Messrs. Hicks and Hasselo wound up in the first division among the men. Copies of the Witt are kept in the Library of Congress—you guess why they want them.

Winter Play

"Peace on Earth"

Third on Coach Izenour's seasonal list, the dramatic phenomenon "Peace on Earth," provided sharp contrast and comment and a display of versatility. Following light comedy and heavy morality in two preceding plays, this bit of violent anti-war propaganda with thirty-odd scenes, presented a huge cast of "straight" parts (much too huge to list) and communistic fanatics in an emotionalized proletariat appeal. John Vlahos, Rachael Lang, and Don Lyons, in the leads, were a college professor, his wife, and a reporter, implicated in a waterfront strike and a student uprising. In "Peace on Earth," first use was made of a portable revolving stage in Wittenberg dramatics.

Orchestra

One of Wittenberg's two touring musical organizations, the "Little Symphony Orchestra" took a spring road trip with concerts in Versailles, Greenville, Wapakoneta, Van Wert, Leipsic, and Lima. Its annual spring concert drew a capacity crowd to Recitation Hall chapel March 24. The orchestra supplied music for many campus entertainments and convocations, climaxed by the Alma Mater pageant and the baccalaureate service in the spring. Mrs. Betty Freeman Haines took over the direction of the orchestra at mid-year when former director Anton Bjorklund left the School of Music faculty.

Honoraries

Arrow and Mask

Secure in the possession of a monopoly in senior women's honoraries on the campus, Arrow and Mask by its very exclusiveness remains the goal of undergraduate coed ambition. Intent on the prospect of eventual admission to Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary, Arrow and Mask maintains the former's qualifications for membership—just in case. Presenting a cup to the freshman girl with the highest scholarship, arranging for the annual Founders' Day pageant, giving a tea for freshman women, and tapping the next year's members, complete Arrow and Mask's activities.

Skull and Chain

Apex of the activities pyramid at Wittenberg, Skull and Chain elects members on the basis of scholarship, activities, leadership, and character, plus, of course, a little political machination. It is local both in membership and activity, directing attention to worthy campus improvements and working for a better Wittenberg, although meeting about as often as the Smoke Abatement League. Just an out and out honorary, Skull and Chain also has a Tap Day in May at which no less than three and no more than eight junior men are chosen to carry on. No officers are elected by the group, as if to avoid naming any one man as the top in campus activity.

Blue Key

Altruistic in motive and coyly shunning publicity, Blue Key seems to have been the initiating force behind some of the better things on the campus since 1926. Although claiming to be a discussion group, it has probably started more constructive projects than any other campus organization—projects like the visitation week-end, and the all-college Christmas dinners, for instance. Somewhat less of a political battleground than most honoraries, Blue Key bases its membership qualifications mainly on student leadership as evidenced by participation in extra-curricular activities.

Pick and Pen

Ostensibly a non-political group is this junior men's honorary which bases its membership on character, leadership, and activities. Emphasis is on the latter, however, as an incentive for sophomore men to aspire to higher things than using a board on the freshmen. Scholarship is an incidental consideration. Selection of new members by unanimous consent of the old ones opens the way for a little log rolling, but membership in the group is generally considered a satisfactory attainment by a sophomore. Tap Day for Pick and Pen is held in May, with an initiation banquet the same night, after which the old members quietly remove themselves from the organization.

An open house in the biology department was the main project of this honorary biology fraternity during the year. Reserving its membership for "those who attain a high scholastic record in the study of biology" (quotes are ours), Triple Beta emphasizes a three-fold program: "stimulation of sound scholarship; dissemination of scientific knowledge; and promotion of biological research" (quotes are theirs). The fraternity was founded in 1922, has 28 active chapters in this country and three somewhere else. Wittenberg's chapter is Xi.

Delta Phi Alpha

Outgrowth of the pre-war Deutscher Verein, Nu Chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, was established on the campus for the good of the German language in 1931. As is not uncommon with departmental honoraries, the group's chief requirement for membership is a "B" average for two years' work in German. Actual contact with the thought and custom of the Vaterland is given members through the German exchange students. The principal activity of the group is the presentation of an annual "German Night", which somehow failed to show up this year.

What time they can spare from promoting the interests of education on the campus, members of Kappa Phi Kappa seem to devote to planning fishing trips and other excursions, with faculty member McNutt as the chief instigator. This one is Eta.

Better interpretation and appreciation of the classics is Lambda Mu's aim, so it accepts for membership only those students who have interpreted and appreciated Latin or Greek to the extent of a "B" grade average for eight hours. A paper on some classical subject is read at each meeting of the group, and a very classical banquet is held at the last meeting of the year. Lambda Mu gives a cup on Honor Day to the Wittenberger who writes the best essay on a classical subject. It used to list its officers' titles in Latin, but apparently decided this year that it would be easier on the student body to put them in English, viz.:

Sigma Alpha Iota

This is, we understand, the oldest national honorary music sorority, founded at the University of Michigan in 1903. The group accepts for membership only women of exceptional musical interest and ability, thereby making the group exclusive, to say the least. It has as lofty a purpose as any: "to promote the highest standard of professional ethics and culture among women students of music schools, and to bring about a closer relationship among women pursuing some phase of music as a profession." Going social this year, Sigma Alpha Iota co-sponsored (with Phi Mu Alpha) a spring formal dance. It also sponsors the annual intersorority sing, and presents several musicales each year.

The national fraternity was founded in 1929, with Wittenberg one of the charter chapters. Among speakers at Psi Chi meetings this year were Dr. W. L. Valentine of Ohio State University, Dr. Lorin A. The national group has 32 chapters; Wittenberg's was installed in 1930. Regular meetings and several informal dinners were held by the local chapter during the year. Organized on the campus in 1925, it has since become a member of the National and State Home Economics Associations. The group arranges fashion shows and displays for campus visitors, and resorts to such things as doughnut sales for financial gain. There are too many members to list, but here are the:

A year's negotiations brought about this spring the metamorphosis of Les Travailleurs to a chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, national romance language honorary. Thus the club becomes an honorary fraternity and the French becomes romance, which includes Spanish and Italian, we assume. The new Phi Sigma Iota chapter, installed May 16, limits membership to juniors and seniors chosen by faculty members of the group.

Rifle Club

Most recent of campus clubs, this one was formed in the spring of 1935 under the guiding hand of Dr. J. W. Barker, who is no mean marksman himself. The government was only too glad to supply rifles for practice, and the National Rifle Association (whose initials, NRA, had an unfortunate connotation at the time) extended membership to the Wittenberg group. A complicated system of range training was instituted to keep the beginners from shooting each other, and about 15 of the 70 members completed the course and began target work in the fall. As yet, competition has been kept within the group, and no rifle team has been entered in intercollegiate contests. This group also has too many members to list, but it has:

But apparently the Cosmopolites were busy off-campus, staging a Cosmopolitan Night show in Richmond, Ind., and a radio program over WLW, among other out-of-town engagements. All foreign students at Wittenberg are automatically members; in addition, several American students are elected to the club. The group is a clearing house for international opinions and ideas.

Clean limbed and stripped for action
a cold world is faced

Completing the seasonal analogy, we are confronted with the paradox of the seniors, graduating in the warmth of spring, yet facing the wintry world. So we allot to them the winter season, though placing them in the spring section. The seniors have reached the pinnacle, the apex, the peak—there is nowhere to go but down. Turning their interests away from the campus and anxiously toward the world, they wonder if their four-season cycle at Wittenberg has taken them anywhere but back to the start.

Baseball

Ridding themselves this year of a reputation for inability to hit their weight, the Lutheran diamond men seem to have developed an offensive power which may make them contenders for the Conference championship. Addition to the lineup of such consistent hitters as Moran, Norman, and Kissell, plus the renewed batting vigor of lettermen Florence, Wilhelm, and Donahue, apparently has rounded out the Lutheran attack. In practice sessions, Scotty Florence has given indications of another successful season on the mound, with Alex Popicg as relief pitcher.

Coach Stobbs has placed his squad members in these positions:

JACK KOCH, catcher; JERRY DONAHUE, first base; JERRY KISSELL, second base; ANDY MORAN, shortstop; PAUL NORMAN, third base; JAY ZELLAR, outfield; LEN WILHELM, outfield; WILLIS BAUGHMAN, outfield; WENDELL WATTS, outfield; JAMES GARVER, first base; ALFRED FLORENCE, ALEX POPICG, pitchers

Tennis

With only lettermen Jerry Whitnack and Sid Kalmanowitz to use as a nucleus, Coach George Fouch found three such talented newcomers in Stan Husted, Carol Sundberg, and John Church that his first year as mentor of the Wittenberg net team seems destined to be marked with an unusually good record. Husted, Sundberg, and Church started the season in one, two, three singles positions respectively, and the Husted-Sundberg and Church-Whitnack doubles combinations appeared formidable. Other squad members likely to take the court are Abbott Wolslagel, Joe Work, Harold Miller, and Edward Stroebel.

Track

Although the Lutheran thinclads last year, in their first season of competition since the sport was revived at Wittenberg, made a creditable record, they are faced with stronger opposition in the meets scheduled this spring. Though likely to prove strong in field events, the team is not sufficiently well balanced on the track to arouse hopes of greater success. Rotzel, Dickerhoof, Graham, Weaver, and Powell are 1935 lettermen on the team.

Squad members and their events:

BURDETTE POWELL—440, mile relay; DICK ROTZEL—high jump, pole vault, broad jump; JOHN WEAVER—high jump, high hurdles; FRED DEY—mile, two mile; GILBERT DICKERHOOF—100, 220, low hurdles; WILLIAM HOLLOWAY—pole vault, broad jump; RICHARD PETERS—shot put, discus; DUD GRAHAM—shot put, discus, mile relay; WILLIAM CRAMER—100, 220; JERRY FISHER—half mile, mile relay; JAMES BALDWIN—mile, two mile.

With only two lettermen returning in Glenn Sucher and John Light, the prospects of the 1936 golf team are not encouraging. Coach Phil Schneider will probably use Martin Ramsey and Jack Snyder as the other two members of the team which plays these formidable opponents:

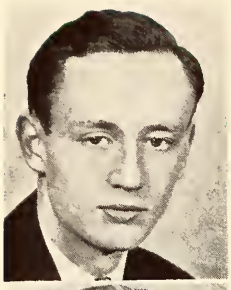
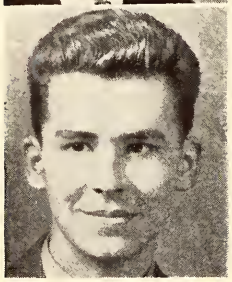
The Wittenberger





Weaver, editor
Gilmore, business manager

Perennially announcing its publication time as the second week in May, then advancing it progressively to the third and fourth weeks, and finally showing up just before Commencement, the Wittenberger probably sets more meaningless deadlines than any other student issue. Its first appearance on the campus is lost in antiquity, but the book got its start as a monthly magazine in the 80s or 90s. Its issues were bound into a volume at the end of the school year. The date of the Wittenberger's metamorphosis into a yearbook is likewise unknown, but it seems safe to say it was a change for the better. Somewhat of an orphan publication, the Wittenberger has neither student subscription, as has the Torch, nor freedom from faculty supervision, as has the Witt. Its financial success thus is usually hazardous, a situation which is not popular with the junior class members who assume financial responsibility for it. The 1936 Wittenberger has attempted to strengthen both financial and editorial weaknesses of recent years by reducing expenses, by increasing circulation to approximately 550, by using a seasonal theme and arrangement, and by introducing three colors in the printing. Informal photography is another innovation in the book.

Spring Play

"The Far Off Hills"

Love, pathos, and subtle comedy, interwoven by Lennox Robinson and staged by the Players in April, made "The Far Off Hills" the most popular play of the season. Taking its theme from the old maxim "the far off hills are green," and its setting in an Irish farm house, this sincere presentation possessed a universal appeal, even to the critical college audience which the Players have to please. Love interest was adequately supplied by Director Izenour's two freshman finds, Rachael Lang and Jean Finefrock, and by Janet Culbertson; heavy acting was left to John Vlahos and the old dramatic standby, Dorothy Nell Morris; and Izenour's two end men, Dick Sultzbach and Louis (Toar) Valbracht supplied the belly laughs.

Choir

Rapidly winning somewhat of a national reputation for a cappella choral work, the choir again took a spring tour of Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania cities, and again sang over the National Broadcasting Co. network, from Station WCAE in Pittsburgh on May 10. Sixty voices comprised the choir when on tour. A considerably larger contingent appeared on campus programs and at convocations. Prof. John Thomas Williams combines capable direction with a bit of low comedy to keep the organization in form.

Alma Mater

LORRAINE ALBRIGHT
Alma Mater 1936

Alma Mater Day

Wittenberg's equivalent of the Daisy Chain of Vassar, and May Day festivities of other campuses, Alma Mater day is the coeds' opportunity to "gambol on the green," as Dr. Schneider puts it. Replete with brilliant costumes and admiring spectators, the Alma Mater Fete follows one of several fairly well-defined themes, among them Pandora's Box, The Awakening of Knowledge, Pageant International, Pages from Greek

Alma Mater

Mythology, and the Wheel of Activities. This year it's the turn of The Awakening of Knowledge. Nominated by a W. W. L. and faculty committee and elected by the women of the college, a junior coed reigns over the festivities in June, and is the personification of Alma Mater for the next year until she crowns the new Queen. Margaret Brillhart was Alma Mater for the 1935 pageant depicted below. Miss Lorraine Albright receives the crown for 1936 in the pageant of June 6. Faculty members Immell, Cadwgan, Bowman, Dunn, Helsel, and MacPherson, work with the Alma Mater Day student chairman in planning the celebration. Assistants to the student chairman are in charge of costumes, decorations, dances, flower children, purchasing, programs, properties, publicity, and ushers. The symphony orchestra supplies the musical accompaniment to the fete.

Y. M. C. A.

Drawing its membership from the entire male student body, the Y. M. C. A. asks only that a candidate be able to sign his name on a card, one reason why it is the largest men's group on the campus—as well as the oldest. Attesting to the responsibility of heading the Association is the fact that two presidents were required this year. The Y. M. C. A. endeavors to extend its work beyond the limits of the campus into the city of Springfield. Here its activities include the work of the gospel teams, social service committees, and Hi-Y discussion leaders. On the campus the Y. M. C. A. cooperates with other groups in various projects, including weekly chapel programs, the Christmas and Lenten vespers, and editing the Freshman Handbook.

Y. W. C. A.

Another organization devoted to the promotion of the good and beautiful at Wittenberg is the Y. W. C. A. It aims "to help uphold the best spiritual standing possible" by four methods which any Y. W. member will be glad to outline in detail. In cooperation with the Y. M. C. A., it sponsors the annual Christmas caroling and Lenten vesper services. It plans chapel programs for alternate Thursdays, and is responsible for the Big and Little Sister Movement which arranges for an upperclass woman to help each freshman girl adjust herself to college life. The Y. W. C. A. meets every other Thursday evening at Ferncliff Hall, with outside speakers occasionally.

Boost Wittenberg Associatoin . . .

Charged with the thankless task of maintaing a host of Wittenberg traditions, and of keeping up the ephemeral student spirit in poor athletic years, the Boost W Association seems perpetually in search of a shoulder to cry on. It does accomplish some worthwhile things, like getting permission to hold dances in the field house, supervising elections, staging Honor Day convocation, and arranging for visitation week-end. It also sets rules for freshman cap wearing, and rules the roost during Homecoming week-end. The Association has twenty members recruited from social, athletic, religious, musical, and journalistic organizations.

Wittenberg Women's League

This organization lays unqualified claim to the largest membership of any group on the campus—it includes all the women in school. Despite a stated purpose which reads "to correlate and unify the interests of women students," the League does a lot of constructive things like conducting the Alma Mater election and visitation week-end, giving an all-college dance, and a garden party for freshman girls. It has a council of representatives from each class as an administrative body, and claims to have been organized in 1925 under the guiding hand of Dean Immell.

Pan-Hellenic Council . . . .

If you can imagine a group seeking to secure better co-operation among sororities by seeing that rushing rules are strictly enforced, you have conjured up the Pan-Hellenic Council. Composed of two delegates from each of the sororities, the Council meets monthly to discuss group problems and to ferret out instances of what a recent Wittenberger called "illegitimate rushing." An annual intersorority bridge tournament and a formal dance are sponsored by the Council by way of lighter diversion.

Interfraternity Council

Another of the "harmony and cooperation" groups, the Interfraternity Council does its best to keep the Greek letter groups from each other's throats, and to fight off the "independent" threat. A junior and a senior representative of each social fraternity constitute the Council's membership. Meetings are held monthly at fraternity houses, and following the theory that all enmity is forgotten over the festive board, the members stay for dinner after the meetings. Having definitely abolished the procedure so elegantly termed "sweatbox rushing," the Council spent most of the year worrying about the Dorm League. Like the Pan-Hel, it also sponsors a bridge tournament, won by the Delta Sigs this year; and a dance.

Besides acting as host to a regional conference in the fall, and sponsoring Lenten services, the Lutheran Student Association this year has extended its activities to a vigorous censorship of the Witt, in a campaign of protest against the moral tone of the magazine's light humor. Student Chest

Eliminating the necessity for campus organizations to canvass students for funds singly, Student Chest has combined the grief into one big annual drive. A Student Chest board, elected in the spring, is charged with conducting the campaign for Chest fund pledges, and with the somewhat more difficult task of collecting the pledges. Budgets are submitted by the benefiting organizations, and the funds are apportioned accordingly. Organizations which are financed by the Chest are Boost Wittenberg Association, Wittenberg Women's League, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Band, and Orchestra.

Editorial Lament

Well, it's out—despite all the business manager's and our doubts, just three weeks after we promised it. Proving, perhaps, how much a yearbook editor's promise means. Now, a word about what we missed or did wrong. First, there's no beauty section, due largely to the disinclination of Photo Editor McCabe's fellow Fiji, Jefferson Machamer (you know—the cartoonist) to return the proofs we sent him for judging. So you'll have to look through the panels and pick out your own beauties, which is probably more satisfactory, anyhow.

Second, we have no Big Ten, male or female. Neither the Torch nor the Wittenberger got around to conducting a Big Ten contest, and as for the one the Witt held—well, look at the results and guess why we discarded them.

Third, there are plenty of errors, but then, we never saw a year-book that didn't have a few. Believe us, none of them went uncorrected if we could help it.

The book is late because you, the dilatory student body, were late. You missed appointments, failed to show up for group pictures, changed dates with the photographers. It is also late because we, the staff members, were slow in getting copy out.

But though it may be late, sprinkled with errors, and fraught with disappointments, we think the 1936 Wittenberger is novel in theme and layout, a bit more readable, less stiffly formal, and a pretty good book withal. We hope you concur.

—THE EDITOR.

INDEX

Here, and in the pages following, are the activities lists that used to clutter up the class panel pages. Putting them here makes the panel pages more attractive, and gets you consumers back to read the ads, which is what the advertisers paid for. Following the names are page numbers. After the majority, they indicate panel and social group pages. After the others, they indicate a variety of group and organization pages. Good rule of thumb for this and any other index—If you don't find what you want on the page listed, look somewhere else.

A TOAST . . . . . .

Here's to Lagonda Publishing Company, who began work on the 1936 Wittenberger late in April, when the Staff despaired of ever getting it out, yet somehow placed it in your hands before Commencement. Here's to Jerry and Jim, and the rest of the outfit, who were responsible for the miracle. They're real printers all.
